

History of Welfare Organization

The Welfare Organization of Iran was formed according to the legal bill dated ۲۴/۴/۱۹۸۷ from the merger of ۱۶ organizations, institutions, institutes and associations to take measures and provide non-insurance services and support while preserving high human values and dignity and relying on the participation of the people and Work closely with relevant organizations to expand rehabilitation, support, rehabilitation and prevention of disabilities and social harms, and to help meet the basic needs of low-income groups.

Since the establishment of the Welfare Organization, it has been assigned ۵۲ tasks, including the care of orphans, orphans and heads of households, the responsibility of community mental health, the affairs of kindergartens, the elderly, the disabled, working and street children, and women with injuries. Seen and exposed to harm, reducing divorce, counseling, employment and housing, premarital education, etc. are part of it.

Efforts to maintain the integrity of affected and vulnerable families, maintenance and care and rehabilitation of the disabled and preparing them to resume normal life in society, development of applied research to prevent disabilities and social harms, Rehabilitation, correction and guidance of the incompatible and socially disadvantaged, providing opportunities to encourage and attract public participation to improve the quality of services and support the deprived and vulnerable, as well as encouraging and supporting the non-governmental sector to invest in any One of the modes of rehabilitation, social; One of the main duties and responsibilities of the welfare organization is mentioned.

In fact, this organization was formed in ۱۹۸۰ to fulfill Articles ۲۱ and ۲۹ of the Constitution of the Islamic Republic of Iran.

On ۱۹۸۰/۹/۲۹, the Tehran Municipality Educational Organization was transferred to Behzisti, and on ۱۰/۱۶/۱۹۸۳, based on the approval of the Islamic Consultative Assembly; the Welfare Organization was once again included in the number of organizations affiliated with the Ministry of Health, Treatment and Medical Education.

In July 2008, according to the law on the structure of the Ministry of Welfare and Social Security, the Welfare Organization of the country, along with social security and health insurance organizations, separated from the Ministry of Health and Medical Education and joined the Ministry of Social Security. In 1990, with the approval of the law establishing the Ministry of Cooperatives, Labor and Social Welfare, the Welfare Organization became part of this new ministry.